Fairfield City Council

Three council members who won at-large seats in the fall election took the oath of office for the start of the new year along with returning Mayor Steve Miller.

Council Members Ron D'Epifanio, Chad Oberson and Bill Woeste were sworn in by Municipal Court Judge Joyce Campbell. All three are returning members of Council, though Ron D'Epifanio has had a four-year break due to term limits after serving several years as a ward councilmember and mayor.

Mayor Miller was also sworn in by Judge Campbell with his wife Michelle by his side.

Hundreds descend upon Harbin Park for Cyclocross

Each year in late October since 2008, Harbin Park has been the site of a national cyclocross racing competition that draws hundreds of riders and visitors from several countries and states to Fairfield.

"This is one of the many large tourist events held in Butler County each year," said Mark Hecquet, Executive Director of the Butler County Convention & Visitors Bureau. "It's grown over the years to its current capacity of 600-plus riders who spend several days in our area, bringing family and friends with them."

Mark estimates, based on a standard sports event formula, that this event brings in approximately $120,000 in direct spending and $280,000 in overall economic impact.

The series this past October included races on a cold Sunday at Harbin Park with the course open for practice on Thursday and Friday.

Upgrades to roads, traffic signals

Repaving of Route 4 from Seward Road to the northern corporation limit with Hamilton remains on track for 2018. Bids for the 3.46 mile stretch are currently being accepted from potential contractors. Work is expected to begin this spring and should be finished by late fall.

Citywide traffic signal improvements are also scheduled this year. This project will go out for bid this spring and be completed by the end of 2018. Improvements will include software and hardware upgrades to the central traffic system and new equipment at many traffic signals including battery backup, LED lights for illuminated signage, and new detection devices.

Curbside brush collection starts in April

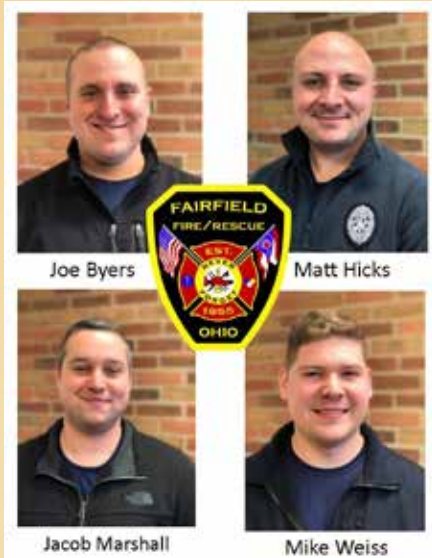

Mark your calendars now for the first full week in April for the start of the City's annual curbside brush collection.

Between now and then if you have large brush to dispose of, you can schedule a drop box to be brought to your home.

To schedule, stop by the Public Works Department at 8870 N. Gilmore Road Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., or call us at (513) 867-4200. More details are on our website at www.fairfieldoh.gov/Large-Brush-Items.

Holiday events provide for those in need

Thank you to everyone who supported several holiday events throughout the City that also provided opportunities for giving back to the community. Because of your generosity with the Festival of Trees, The Giving Tree, and other efforts, hundreds of pounds of food were donated to the Food Pantry and many children received hats, gloves, scarves, toys and books.

Police food drive and “Cop for a Day”

The Police Department collected 758 pounds of food from employees and residents for the Fairfield Food Pantry. This effort included the opportunity for children to be entered into a drawing to be Cop for a Day if their families donated food.

Camden Koedel and Katie Schuster won the honor and were sworn in for their duties by Mayor Steve Miller on December 29.

New Trees & Playgrounds

Fall was a great time to plant trees and build playgrounds around the City. Harbin Park has a new White Oak Tree, and Lions Park has a new playground.

Fire Departments training at City Facility

The City's fire training complex on Groh Lane has been busy with activity from Fairfield's firefighters as well as some outside organizations.

Butler Tech's high school fire class completed a week of live burn training with 35 students. The students learned through simulated vehicle and structural fires. Hamilton's Fire Department used the complex to simulate live fire situations for its transitional firefighting class that all personnel took part in over a two-week period. Fairfield firefighters also participated in Hamilton's classes and live burn training, which is particularly helpful since the two departments often provide mutual aid.
